May's New Medals, Part II

Numismagram Newsletter #148 (V/2025)

We're back with our second upload for May, and along with it, a brief newsletter with some of the highlights. Of note are some attractively toned papal medals, a rare Filipino award medal from the 1904 World's Fair, a contemporary medal honoring Einstein and his theory of relativity, and a unique (yes, there was only one made) art medal by a Japanese medalist…

SWITZERLAND. Bern. Silver Academic Prize Medal or "Gärtnerpfennig". Issued circa 1820 for outstanding pupils in the canton.

For all of this upload's new items, please click here or on the banner art at the top of this newsletter. All items from this update populate first at the top of our inventory page, and are marked "newest," while other recent items from the past few months follow and are marked "new." From there, our older items sort in alphabetical order based upon their primary country of focus. We'll be back again in two weeks on 2 June with another group of museum-quality art, historical, and contemporary medals!
